Minimum quantity desired filter is NOT available in new eBay API

The Seller Type filter on search page will NOT be supported in the new APIs.

The screenshot shows the eBay search results for 'ipads'. The left sidebar contains a 'Filter by' section with various filters. Two filters are highlighted with red boxes and arrows pointing to explanatory text:

- Minimum Quantity: A filter with a text input field containing '1' and a 'Go' button. An arrow points from this filter to the text: 'Minimum quantity desired filter is NOT available in new eBay API'.
- Seller Type: A filter with two radio button options: 'eBay Business Preferred Suppliers' and 'eBay Top Rated Sellers'. An arrow points from this filter to the text: 'The Seller Type filter on search page will NOT be supported in the new APIs.'

The main search results area shows '197,292 items found' and a 'Company Preferred Items' section with several iPad listings. The top listing is 'Apple iPad Pro 32...' for $429.99 USD. Other listings include 'Apple iPad Pro 32...' for $479.99 USD, 'Apple iPad Air WiF...' for $129.99 USD, 'Apple iPad Pro 9.7...' for $329.99 USD, and 'BRAND NEW SEA...' for $252.80 USD. Below these are more listings for 'Apple iPad 6th Gen 32GB Gold Wi-Fi MRJN2LL/A' for $279.00 USD and 'Tripp Lite Heavy Duty Lightning to USB Sync / Charge Apple iPhone iPad 6ft (M100-006-HD)' for $17.10 USD.

Other changes

- Ship Notices and Order confirmations were previously sent by eBay. Due to the changes associated with the new API's these documents shall now be sent by Spot Buy.
- Only the default payment card can now be used at checkout for each PayPal account that is linked to an eBay account. Previously, up to 8 payment cards could be associated with a single PayPal account. Now, each eBay account will need to be associated with only one payment card on the Spot Buy admin page. Therefore if a customer uses multiple cards, they will need to create an eBay account for each one and authorize each account in the Spot Buy admin page.
- Previously, it was necessary to renew authorization of Spot Buy on your eBay account every six months. With the new API integration, this is no longer required, as this renewal is now done automatically.
- Buying restrictions can no longer be applied to a list of eBay Top Rated Sellers. Include and exclude restriction lists for eBay Select Suppliers and Custom lists of eBay suppliers are now limited to 250 sellers.
- The “Allow Processing” toggle is not available with the new API. This toggle button was located in the Process Order Control area at Manage → Spot Buy Administration → Tools, and it allowed administrators to turn purchase order processing off while testing their Spot Buy setup.
