Feature details

The Finding and Event Collaboration user interface has the following changes:

1. An Open Help icon is displayed in the top-right corner of the user interface. Clicking this icon displays or hides the in-app help icons.
2. In-app help icons are placed next to important user interface elements (for example, fields, links, labels, or buttons) in the user interface.
3. On clicking any help icon, a text box appears, containing brief information about the corresponding user interface element. The text box can also include links to further information related to the element.
