Improved bid display with support for alternate bids and and supplier-added items

Introducing: Improved bid display with support for alternate bids and and supplier-added items

Customer challenge

Many buying organizations allow suppliers to suggest additional or alternative offers during sourcing activities. Previously, guided buying had a limitation preventing users from receiving and viewing multiples responses from a single supplier.

Though the guided buying sourcing template could be configured to allow alternative quotes, the previous response page in guided buying did not have the capability to process and display this information.

In addition, there was constructive end user feedback on usability improvement opportunities to pursue.

Solution area

SAP Ariba Buying (and Invoicing) with guided guying capability

Meet that challenge with SAP Ariba

The display of supplier bids is now quick and intuitive, which make single and multi-line RFQs more understandable to users.

Users now easily view the status of their RFQs and can see which supplier has the best bid. There's a new bid table and graph to visualize the competing supplier bids.

Support for alternate bidding, supplier-added items, and a count of participating suppliers have also been added.

Updates to policies and policy engine allow for enhanced compliance to procurement guidelines.

Implementation information

This feature is on at GA but requires customer configuration before use.

Experience key benefits

Customers using RFQ functionality within Guided Buying will have more insights into the supplier's primary or alternate bids.

The new intuitive experience will make users' decision-making easier in a readable table and graph view to compare and award bids.

Customers can ensure the users are guided by the policies even in the process of awarding.

Prerequisites and Restrictions

Restriction: Guided buying supports only one type of alternate bidding: Alternative Pricing. It doesn't support the other two types of alternate bidding: Supplier Bundles or Volume Tiers.

Prerequisite: To support alternate bidding or supplieradded items, you must turn on these features in your SAP Ariba Sourcing template

Enablement Steps

To Set This Parameter:

- On the guided buying home page, choose Admin.
- In the Parameters section, click Manage parameters.
- In the Parameter Settings table, find the following parameter and set it to true:

PARAM_ENABLE_ENHANCED_RFQ_INTEGRATION

Enables guided buying to communicate with SAP Ariba Sourcing through APIs in addition to cXML. These APIs offer improved functionality and enable guided buying to use an enhanced bid display. Guided buying uses these APIs for only new-style multiand single-line RFQs, not legacy single-line RFQs.

If set to false (default), guided buying does not use the enhanced bid display and does not show alternate bids or supplier-added items.

If set to true, guided buying integrates with SAP Ariba Sourcing through APIs in addition to cXML. It then supports the enhanced bid display, alternate bids, and supplier-added items.

Introducing: Improved bid display with support for alternate bids and and supplier-added items

The top of the redesigned bid page shows event status as well as some high level detail and supplier participation statistics.

Guided buying now shows a real-time count of suppliers that have participated. Users can see at a glance the progress of supplier responses including who has bid, intends to bid, and declined.

Introducing: Improved bid display with support for alternate bids and and supplier-added items

Linit price

A new bid table and graph allows users to see important aspects of suppliers' bids in relation to each other. They can use this comparison to find the best quote.

They can easily filter complex RFQs by various aspects such as supplier name or terms and they can even download an image of the bid.

Suppliers can now offer multiple bids for variations of their offerings. For example, they might provide three guotes for an item with one-, two-, and three-year warranties. Or, they might offer alternative bids with different term values, such as delivery time or quality. Previously, if suppliers entered alternate bids, guided buying displayed only the primary bid and users never saw the alternate bids.

Policies have been enhanced to further support tactical sourcing in guided buying. Some policies can now trigger at the Accept Quote phase in addition to the Request Quote stage and new policy trigger fields have been added.

Please see full product documentation on help.sap.com for a list of improvements to policies specific to the multi-line RFQ process.

After the RFQ is awarded, a new Awarded quotes section displays details about the award, including supplier names, quantities, and prices. Users can see at a glance the exact items or services that were awarded and can add them to a requisition with one click. If multiple suppliers were awarded, users can order from them by creating a single requisition.

Note that in low touch and self service scenarios users can only award to a single supplier in guided buying. However if awarding in high touch scenarios by sourcing professionals is split to multiple suppliers all the awards will be displayed in guided buying.
