

Using and Creating a Test Account

- A Supplier test account allows suppliers to test the catalog with their customer in a non-production environment.
- During the catalog project, it is recommended to load the catalog to the Test account first. This will help ensure your catalog is error free and working when it is later loaded to the Production account.
- Every SAP Business Network account has a Production account by default. However, only the account administrator can create and manage additional test accounts.
- Ensure you have access to a Test account, or contact your account administrator for support.
- Test accounts are recognizable by the TEST MODE icon in the main banner.

Test accounts are recognizable by the TEST MODE icon in the main banner.

